

INVENTORY MANAGEMENT SYSTEM FOR RETAILERS

Problem Statement:

Nowadays in an era that has advanced technology and a place in the world. Everything can be linked only at your fingertips in the times rapidly developing with the sophisticated technology of today. Therefore an inventory system is also not lagging behind in introducing a method of keeping an inventory data systematically and safely. The problem faced by the company is they do not have any systematic system to record and keep their inventory data. It difficult for the admin to record the inventory data quickly and safely because they only keep it in the log book and not properly organized

1.What does the problem affect?	1.overselling 2.Inefficient Warehouse Management 3.Inadequate Access 4.unclear communication
2.What are the boundaries for the problem?	1.product finder 2.mordern inventory management software 3.technology to plan inventory 4.production planning software 5.proper training
3.What is the issue?	1.consumers are choosing multichannel buying experiences

	2.so many technologies exist to drive marketing sales,but they don't seem to work together 3.to attack customers loyalty,retailers Need an Experience which stand out.
4.When does the issue occur?	1.No Proper maintenance 2. Over dose of pesticides and fertilizers

5. Why it is important that we fix the problem?	Improving the yields in crop on a global basis will allow farmers to meet global demand for feed, fuel and food while minimizing the need to bring amount of the new land into the crop production.
6. What methodology used to solve the issue?	1. Monitoring crops growth 2. Regular Scouting 3. Crop protection
7. Where does the issue occur?	